"Put Something by" The Government Now Says So

There was an ironic note in Thursday's conference between a United States Treasury representative and local men seeking to organize Hempstead county for the sale of Defense Savings Stamps and Bonds. The same government which for some years has set the fashion for prodigal spending strictly among its own people, now warns us all to "Put something by for a rainy day — for the rainy day will surely come."

I'm not being cynical about it. I'm just pointing out that if the same government which went hog-wild on

Defense Stamp and Bond Sale Organized Here

Albert Graves Heads County Committee! Meeting 8 DST Monday

Hempstead county was organized for a selling campaign on United States Defense Savings Stamps and Bonds at a meeting of local men late Thursday afternoon with C. E. Wilson of Little Rock, deputy state administrator, in the office of Mayor Albert Graves.

Mayor Graves was chosen county chairman; Syd E. McMath was named chairman of the Marketing Division committee; Royce Weisenberger chairman of the Co-Operative Division committee, which group will furnish stamps; and Alex H. Washburn chairman of the Publicity Division committee.

Chairman Graves called a meeting of the whole organization for 8 o'clock, Daylight Saving Time, Monday night in the council room at the hall.

The committee organization thus completed follows: Chairman Albert Graves, publicity division committee; chairman, Alex H. Washburn; other members, Leonard Ellis, W. H. Elliot, Hawkins, Bryant Bundy. Marketing Division Committee: chairman, Syd E. McMath; banking chairman, C. C. Sprague; labor chairman, T. (Bill) Smith; business chairman, Lyman Armstrong.

Henry Haynes, chairman, B. E. McMath; chairman, E. E. Austin, chairman, Mrs. E. O. Wingfield. Co-Operative Division Committee: chairman, Royce Weisenberger; clubs chairman, E. F. McFaddin; sports chairman, Rev. Thomas Brewster; farm groups chairman, Oliver Adams; women's chairman, Mrs. W. Shiver.

Hope to Try for First Win of 1941 Season

Smackover Packs Weight Advantage of Three Pounds to the Man

The Hope High School Bobcats will take on the powerful Smackover Buckaroos at Hammons Stadium here Friday night at 8:30 Daylight Saving Time in the second game of the season for the Hope boys.

The Bobcats are again the underdogs, being outweighed approximately three pounds to the man. The Smackover line holds a 12 pound advantage. However the Hope backfield outweighs the Buckaroo backs 16 pounds to the man.

Scott Out. Scott, all-state Smackover backfield man, suffered injuries in the game with Camden last week and will witness the game Friday night from the sidelines.

Against Haynesville here last week the Bobcats showed little offense outside of passing. The local lads have been working on a running attack all week but will be weakened due to the absence of Richard Stanford, starting back, who underwent a minor operation earlier in the week.

Dub Oliver, regular starter of last season, will fill in for Stanford. In past years Smackover has always given Hope plenty of opposition and downed the Bobcats last year.

The athletic committee announced that boxes and reserve seats were available. Admission to the game is 75 cents to adults and 25 cents to local students.

The Lineup Follows:

Rotarians Back McFaddin for Int'l President

Hope Man Likely to Get Highest Office in World Organization

E. F. McFaddin, Hope attorney who in the last decade has risen to a noted position in Rotary International, an organization of 5,234 clubs and 250,000 members scattered throughout the world, loomed up Friday as probably its next president.

Mr. McFaddin was endorsed for the presidency by his home club at its luncheon meeting Friday noon in Hotel Barlow—but the Hope man had already been endorsed by hundreds of clubs. The first club to endorse him was Oakland, Fla., it was pointed out to the Hope membership by Lyman Armstrong Friday when he brought up Mr. McFaddin's name for consideration of the home group.

The Hope club endorsed Mr. McFaddin unanimously.

Mr. Armstrong, reviewing Mr. McFaddin's history in Rotary International, told the Hope Rotarians:

"We started something when we made Ed president of the local club a few years back. Later he became district governor, and then a director of Rotary International. And since then he has been chairman of the Vocational Service Committee, and is today chairman of the Aims and Objectives Committee and of the Convention Committee."

"He is in line to be elected president next year."

"The procedure is this: The individual Rotary clubs are asked to submit nominations for the presidency. These nominations close December 1, and the Rotary International nominating committee then selects one man as the nominee by April 1."

"The clubs then have the period from April 1 to the 15th in which to nominate someone else if the committee's selection doesn't meet with their approval."

"These names then are balloted upon at the Rotary International convention in June, which convention in 1942 will be held at Toronto, Canada."

A club guest Friday was Bob Mitchell, newspaper publishers' representative, of Dallas, Texas, introduced by Ted Jones.

Congressman Harris Announce O. K. of Radio Station

A letter to The Star from Congressman Oren Harris Friday made the following announcement:

"The President on September 16, 1941, designated Work Projects Administration project number 15052, sponsored by Arkansas State Police Commission, in the sum of $3,952, for the construction of police radio broadcasting station for the Arkansas State Police Commission, including the installation of utilities and operating facilities, and perform work appurtenant and incidental thereto."

"This project is now eligible for operation at the discretion of the State Work Projects Administrator, Mr. Floyd Sharp, at Little Rock."

"I am glad to notify you of the availability of funds for this project."

Battle Rages in Louisiana

General Lear's Mechanized Forces Being Encircled

By The Associated Press The vaunted mechanized night of Lt. Gen. Ben Lear's Second army was held inoperative Friday by two giant encirclement moves of Third army forces which threatened to rip through the invader's lines.

General Lear's forces sprung its mightiest armored offensive deep into the unprotected flank of the larger Third army.

The drive supported by clouds of bombers and pursuit ships carried 75 miles southwest near DeRidder, La., between the Third army defense line. But before darkness descended over the battlefield the tide had turned.

Ukraine Capital and 4 Russian Armies Encircled

Nazi Command Puts Russian Losses at 3,600,000, Germans at 402,865

BERLIN —(AP)— German forces have entered Kiev and raised the Swastika over the Chital on the long besieged Ukraine capital, Soviet Russia's third largest city, the German high command reported Friday night.

The bulletin was the third triumph in quick succession from Hitler's headquarters including the capture of Bolnisi, 200 miles north of Kiev.

The whole picture implied that Red army resistance in the southern region was tottering under the wile of the German onslaught with hundreds of thousands of men backed by motorized mechanism of the German arsenal.

By the Associated Press Adolf Hitler's high command reported Friday that German troops had closed a steel ring around four Russian armies 125 miles east of Kiev with the annihilation now in progress and grave new threats imperiled Leningrad.

The trapped Red armies were unofficially estimated at a half-million men. More than 3,600,000 Russians were declared to have been slain, captured in the 3-month old campaign with half of the figure killed.

Staggering Losses On the ratio of three wounded to every one killed in past wars this would mean that Red army losses totaled the staggering figure of 9 million including some 5,400,000 wounded.

German losses were put at 402,865 killed, wounded and missing in the first two months of the war.

In a special bulletin from Hitler's field headquarters it was said that a German army under General von Rundstedt and another under Field Marshall General Fedor von Bock, slashing around Kiev in a vast flanking movement met beyond the Desna river to trap the Russians.

Finnish military dispatches said huge fires were raging in Leningrad, blazing so fiercely they could be seen with the naked eye from Finland shores.

Kronstadt Silenced Other reports said Stuka dive bombers had silenced the Kronstadt fortress, powerful island naval base 20 miles from Leningrad, thus paving the way for German warships to steam up the Gulf of Finland for close bombardment of the city.

Red army bulletins acknowledged that the Germans had reached the Kiev gates but indicated the struggle had reached no decisive stage.

German dispatches said other Nazi armies sweeping eastward beyond the Dnieper river thrust about halfway to Kharkov in the heart of the Donets river industrial basin, 270 miles east of Kiev.

New pressure was reported too on the long seized Black sea port of Odessa where the Germans said they had dropped 220,000 pounds of bombs in a single night.

Nashville Beats Atlanta 9-2

Sending Shaughnessy Playoff to Full Seven Games

ATLANTA, Ga. —(AP)— The Nashville Vols routed the Crackers, 9 to 2, here Thursday night before a crowd of 7,541 fans and extended the Shaughnessy playoff series finals to the full seven games.

The series now stands at three games each with the final and decisive game scheduled for Friday night. The winner will meet either Dallas or Tulsa of the Texas League in the Pacific Series.

The Vols drove Emile Lochbaum, Cracker ace, from the box in the fifth after he had allowed six runs and nine hits. Vito Tamulis went the distance for the Vols. Defeated in his last attempt, he had little trouble despite that he allowed 10 hits.

In collecting their nine runs, the Vols banged out 12 hits. Oris Hockett hit a home run, a triple and two singles. In addition, he had a base on balls. Hockett alone scored four runs and drove in one with his homer.

A couple of southpaws will take the mound in the crucial game Friday night. Russell Means of Nashville will face Bob Chipman of Atlanta. Lochbaum's loss Thursday night was his second straight at the hand of the Vols.

County Clubs Hold Meeting

Home Demo Groups Have Model Community Night

Sixty people from eleven communities in Hempstead county attended the model community night demonstration at the Experiment Station Recreational Center Wednesday night. Miss June Donahue, State Recreation Specialist for the Agricultural Extension Service, led the games.

The group enjoyed a picnic supper by the lake which was followed by a patriotic party. At the beginning each person was "entitled" as the famous American he or she would like to be. After the doctors had passed on the person he was assigned to either red, white or blue company. Throughout the evening contests were carried on between these companies.

Old American folk games directed by Miss Donahue were enjoyed by everyone. One of the highlights of the evening was the grand march.

The outstanding feature of this model community night was the enthusiasm with which everyone took part.

This program was sponsored by the County Council of Home Demonstration Clubs. Each club is urged to have a community night of their own.

Miss Mary Claude Fletcher, Home Demonstration Agent, will meet with the following clubs the week September 22 through 26.

Monday—Oak Grove.
Tuesday—Marlbrook.
Wednesday—Doyle.
Thursday—Bright Star.
Friday—Avery's Chapel.
Miss Phoebe Harris, Assistant Home Demonstration Agent, will meet with the following clubs.

Monday—Harmony.
Tuesday—Fulton.
Wednesday—Rocky Mount.
Thursday—DeAnn.
Friday—Wallaceburg.
The Washington club will meet Thursday and the Antioch club will meet Friday.

September 29 and 30 the people of the Hope Area will make mattresses at the Fair Park.

September 30 at 1 o'clock p. m. there will be an executive council and board meeting in the Municipal court room at the city hall.

Japs Claim a Major Offensive Started

SHANGHAI —(AP)— A Japanese army spokesman said Friday that a major offensive was underway southwest from Hankow along the shore of Yangtze lake and in the vicinity of Yochow where the Japanese were said to have crossed the Yangtze river. The spokesman said 4,200 Chinese were killed.

In the United States Army, a company consists of 80 to 200 men with a captain in command, and is the fifth smallest unit in the service.

Prepare for Spring Pasture

Farmers Advised to Plant More Fall Grains

More fall-planted grains for winter and early spring pasture should be the slogan of every Hempstead county farmer, says Oliver L. Adams, county agent.

With the National Defense program requiring greater production of dairy and poultry products, winter grazing will be necessary if these requirements are met. Small grains planted now can be used to supplement the supplies of corn and hay for winter feeding and then be cut for grain or hay next June.

The choice of the small grain planted will depend on its use, as well as the productivity and conditions of the soil. If the crop is to be used only for pasture, rye or barley is recommended. Rye is preferred to barley on soils low in productivity or where a good seed-bed cannot be prepared.

Both Abruzzi or Balbo varieties of rye are recommended, using about 4 to 6 pecks per acre. If the crop is to be harvested for grain in addition to being used for winter and spring pastures, oats, barley, or wheat is recommended. Wheat is recommended where the grain is wanted for flour and not for stock feed, since either oats or barley will ordinarily outyield wheat.

Barley is more resistant to freezes than oats, but requires more productive soils. On such soils, barley usually makes much better winter pastures than oats. Recommended varieties, according to Charles F. Simmons, Extension agronomist of the University of Arkansas College of Agriculture, include Early Missouri Beardless, Tennessee Beardless, and Wintex. Barley should be seeded at the rate of 4 to 6 pecks per acre on a well prepared seedbed. The best varieties of oats are Ferguson 922, Hastings 100-Bushel, Nortex, Vok-er's Fulgrain, and Applier. The recommended rate of seeding is 7 to 10 pecks per acre. If wheat is used, it should be planted at the rate of 4 to 6 pecks per acre, using Alabama Blue Stem, Fultz, Coker's Blue stem, or Hastings' Blue Stem.

To furnish the most grazing, all small grains should be fertilized, using 200 to 300 pounds of a 4-10-4 or 5-12-6 fertilizer per acre.

Rye grass may also be used to furnish winter grazing, though the other small grains will ordinarily supply more grazing. The most practical use of rye grass is probably on permanent pastures which could not be broken for planting oats, rye, or barley. Rye grass should be seeded at the rate of 25 pounds per acre.

If the greatest amount of grazing is expected, the fall grains should be planted as soon as possible, so they will make growth before winter weather begins. The value of small grains for grazing or hay can be increased by planting with hairy vetch, using about 20 pounds of vetch per acre and from one-half to two-thirds normal rate of seeding of grain.

On the Job With the Navy

Quartermasters, Signalmen Help Route Ships

By NEA Service
WASHINGTON — A rowboat that arrives at the right place at the right time is of more use to the U. S. Navy in battle than the biggest battleship that gets to the wrong place or to the right spot at the wrong time.

In the final analysis the whole navy is designed to be used as a single fighting machine. Each of its complex units—ships, planes, officers and men—is merely a cog that must mesh perfectly with other cogs.

If, therefore, your next letter from Joe, who has just joined the navy, informs you that he's working to get a rating as a quartermaster or a signalman, don't fret because he isn't a gunner. His job will be helping his ship get to the right place at the right time.

The quartermaster in the navy is a very different thing from quartermaster in the army. The latter deals with food, clothing and transportation of soldiers. In the navy, the quartermasters work under the commissioned navigating officer of the ship, caring for navigating instruments and assembling data to aid navigation.

Visual Signals Are Indispensable
The men who wear the quartermaster's wheel on their sleeve and the gold anchor insignia of a chief petty officer pinned to the front of their visored cap have shown in practice and in theory (through written examination) their knowledge of and ability to use all the highly complicated navigating instruments aboard ship. He has cared for logs, clocks, barometers, compasses and steering gear. He can take soundings, control signal apparatus from the bridge, knows maritime flags and the rules of the road on the sea.

Fishermen Make Rich Hauls

Once-Scorned Sharks Are Bread and Butter Today

By NEA Service
SALERNO, Fla. — Sharks, hogs to beach bathers, terror to ocean swimmers and long a pest to commercial fishermen, today mean bread and butter to an ever-growing number of Florida commercial shark fishermen.

Restriction of imports of cod liver oil from the Scandinavian countries and Japan is booming sales of Florida shark liver oil, which this winter may entirely replace cod liver oil in many American medicine cabinets.

Shark liver oil is more potent in vitamin A content than cod liver oil and several shark liver oil preparations are already extensively used for nutrition of dogs, milk, cattle, hogs and other animals. It has appeared in capsule form at drug stores throughout the nation for human consumption.

Increased demands for shark hides, which bring about two and a half times the price of cow hides, has added impetus to the industry. The teeth and crystallized eye pupils find a ready market as trinkets and curios. The fins make a soup considered a delicacy by the Chinese. Even the backbones are made into walking canes and sold to northern visitors who come to Florida.

During the past year at the shark fishery here at Salerno, a sleepy little town on the lower east coast, shark fishermen caught more than 6000 sharks. This fishery is the largest in the state.

The fishermen here use open boats about 40 feet long equipped with automobile engines. Average day's catch runs from 20 to 50, caught on giant chain trawls from 1000 to 5000 feet long, containing 200 to 400 hooks on chain leaders.

Find Some Odd Relics
There are plenty of thrills to shark fishing, even for profit. Sudden squalls, occasional storms and giant sharks that break a 2000-pound-test chain line as easily as a man snapping string are all a part of shark fishing.

The shark fishermen of Florida have never yet reported finding any human remains in sharks, but they do often find other curious objects. A child's doll, a five-gallon paint bucket with chicken bones inside and

World War Leader Advises Price Ceiling

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Bernard M. Baruch, World war head of the industry board, told congress Friday that legislation which would put a ceiling over price structures was the "practical necessity" of the present crisis and would save 20 per cent of all appropriations.

Short Term
President Andrew Johnson served less than a full term as president of the United States, serving out only the unexpired term of Abraham Lincoln.

Population Decline
Newark, N. J., eighteenth largest city in the United States, had a population decline in the 1940 census, dropping from 442,337 in 1930 to 428,236 in 1940.

Cool Cucumbers
The cucumber usually has a temperature 1 degree lower than that of the surrounding atmosphere. Hence the expression, "cool as a cucumber."
